Understanding Our Gender Pay Gap

In Cedarglade, all colleagues receive the pay rate that is appropriate to their role and reflective of their experience and skills, regardless of gender.

Our pay gap exists due to the following factors:

- First, a higher percentage of store managers are male.
- Secondly, there are more males in senior operations positions within our support function.
- Thirdly, there are more males in skilled roles such as drivers, butchers, and bakers. These roles have been traditionally male dominated and attract higher rates of pay than less skilled roles.
- Fourthly, we offer flexible part-time working options, and many women opt to avail of these options.

Our Actions to Address the Gap

Reducing the gender pay gap has been a priority in our people strategy in recent years. We already have a number of actions underway. These include:

- Clear career pathway opportunities highlighted for all roles within our business.
- Reduced hours of working per week for store management teams to promote a better work life balance and make the roles more attractive to a wider range of applicants.
- Facilitating and encouraging hybrid, remote, and flexible working where possible.
- Actively seeking to improve diversity in all roles through creating an inclusive and welcoming work environment, advertising campaigns, and supporting existing colleagues to develop and grow within Cedarglade.
- An Employee Resource Group (ERG) focused on gender that supports the identification of strategies and actions to remove any barriers to inclusion.
- Updating a wide range of policies to foster inclusivity and diversity and introducing new policies.
- Unconscious bias training for all people managers
- Offering mentoring to support the development and progression of our colleagues
- Leveraging the expertise, learnings, and resources of the LEAD Network (Leading Executives Advancing Diversity). Musgrave was the first Irish company to partner with the LEAD Network which aims to attract, retain and advance women in the retail and consumer goods industry in Europe through education, leadership and business development.
- We launched GenRep, our shadow youth Board, in 2021. It is made up of nine young colleagues aged between 22 and 30 who are from a mix of genders, backgrounds and experiences. GenRep amplifies the voice and ideas of the next generation and has been tasked with bringing new ideas and positive disruption to the business.
